Wheeling-Nippon Steel Announces New Warranty
for GALVALUME® Coated Steel Coils

Wheeling-Nippon Steel's Follansbee, West Virginia location has been a licensed manufacturer of GALVALUME® steel for 30 years. Our product is widely used in the construction of roofing and siding for both residential and non-residential structures in the United States. It is energy efficient, 100% fully recyclable and offers the longevity building owners demand.

We are happy to inform our customers that Wheeling-Nippon Steel will increase the standard limited warranty for GALVALUME® coated steel coils for use in both residential and non-residential structures. Effective for shipments on or after May 1, 2023, our superior GALVALUME corrosion resistance is now backed by a warranty of 45 years for unpainted AZ55 GALVALUME and 50 years for GALVALUME prepainted for use in roofing and side panels installed in the continental United States.

We are confident that Wheeling-NipponSteel GALVALUME with its enhanced warranty, is a superior product and will continue to be a best choice for our customers' applications.
